We provide accounting advice to landholders in relation to mining and exploration compensation.

In recent years landholder compensation has become more frequent due to developments in:

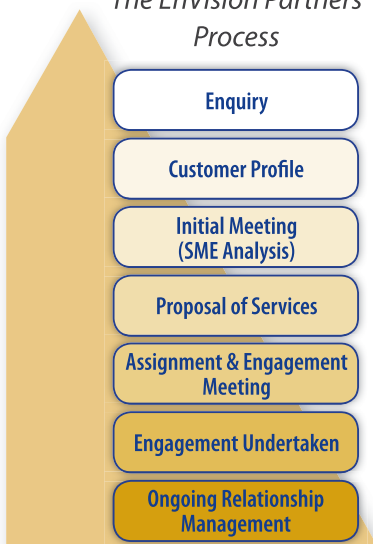

- Coal Seam Gas exploration and production;
- Mineral exploration and mining projects;
- Mining;
- Rail and transport corridors; and
- Other resource industry related infrastructure projects.

The taxation treatment of compensation payments is complex and includes the consideration of the application of GST, income tax and capital gains tax rules to the compensation payments.
